

Privacy Notice for staff

This Privacy Notice tells you what to expect the School to do with your personal information when you provide the School with information. The School needs to hold personal information about you on the School computer systems and in paper records to help with the daily running of the School.

John Perry Primary School is the data controller of the personal information the School process and is responsible for its accuracy and safe-keeping. Please help to keep school records up to date by informing the School of any change of circumstances.

Senior school staff and in some circumstance's administration staff have access to your records to enable them to do their jobs. Anyone with access to your record is properly trained in confidentiality issues and is governed by a legal duty to keep your details secure, accurate and up to date. All information about you is held securely, and appropriate safeguards are in place to prevent loss.

In some circumstances the School may be required by law to release your details to statutory or other official bodies, for example if a court order is present, or in the case of public educational matters. In other circumstances you may be required to give written consent before information is released.

In some cases, your data may be outsourced to a third-party processor. Where the School outsources data to a third-party processor the same data protection standard that John Perry Primary School upholds are imposed on the processor.

The School Data Protection Officer will oversee and monitor the School's data protection procedures and ensure the School remain compliant with the General Data Protection Regulation and the Data Protection Act 2018.

Within this Privacy Notice the School workforce refers those employed to teach, or otherwise engaged to work at a school.

What is personal information?

Personal information can be any information relating to a living person who can be directly or indirectly identified by reference to an identifier. A personal identifier includes your name, location, online identifier and identification numbers.

The categories of information that we collect, hold and share include:

- Personal information (such as name, employee or teacher number, national insurance number and address)
- Characteristics (such as ethnicity, language, nationality, country of birth, age and ethnic group)
- Contract information (such as start dates, hours worked, post, roles and salary information.
- Work absence information (such as number of absences and reasons)
- Qualifications (and, where relevant, subjects taught)
- Attendance information (such as sessions attended, number of absences and absence reasons)
- Relevant medical and dietary information
- Financial information
- Photographs
- Disciplinary records

What is ‘Special Category’ personal information?

Some information is ‘special’ and needs more protection due to its sensitivity. It’s often information you would not want widely known and is very personal to you. This is likely to include anything that can reveal your:

- sexuality and sexual health
- religious or philosophical beliefs
- ethnicity
- physical or mental health
- trade union membership
- political opinion
- genetic/biometric data

Why we collect and use your information

The School use school workforce data to:

- enable the development of a comprehensive picture of the workforce and how it is deployed
- inform the development of recruitment and retention policies
- enable individuals to be paid
- enabling ethnicity and disability monitoring

The lawful basis on which we use this information

John Perry Primary School holds the legal right to collect and use personal data relating to the workforce. The School collect and use personal data in order to meet legal requirements and legitimate interests set out in the GDPR and Data Protection Act 2018.

Generally, the School collect and use personal information where:

- you have given consent
- you have entered into a contract with the School
- it's necessary to perform the School's statutory duties
- it's required by law
- It's necessary for legal cases

The School process this information under:

- Article 6(1)(b) processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is party or in order to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a contract.
- Article 9(2)(b) processing is necessary for the purpose of carrying out the obligations and exercising specific rights of the controller or of the data subject in the field of employment and social security and social protection law in so far as it is authorised by Union or Member State law or a collective agreement pursuant to Member State law providing for appropriate safeguards for the fundamental rights and the interests of the data subject.

Whilst the majority of the personal data you provide to the School is mandatory, some is provided on a voluntary basis. When collecting data, the School will inform you whether you are required to provide this data or if your consent is needed. Where consent is required, the School will provide you with specific and explicit information with regards to the reasons the data is being collected and how the data will be used.

If the School have consent to use your personal information, you have the right to remove it at any time. If you want to remove your consent, contact the School's data protection officer.

How long is your data stored for?

The School hold workforce data whilst in employment with the School, and for 6 years following the date you leave the organisation. Where the School feels the need for the data to be retained for longer, for example in the case of a possible employment tribunal, the information will be stored for up to 6 years after the full completion of the case or in compliance with School's retention schedule.

Who we share workforce information with?

The School do not share information about the School workforce members with anyone without consent unless the law and school policies allow us to do so.

The School are required to share information about the School workforce members with the local authority (LA) under section 5 of the Education (Supply of information about the School workforce) (England) Regulation 2007 and amendments.

The School share personal data with the Department for Education (DfE) on a statutory basis.

This data sharing underpins workforce policy monitoring, evaluation and links to school funding/expenditure and the assessment education attainment.

Where necessary or required the School may also share information with:

- School staff and boards
- Financial organisations
- NHS and healthcare professionals
- Social and welfare organisations
- Law enforcement organisation and courts
- Current, past or prospective employers
- Voluntary and charitable organisations
- Business associates and other professional advisers
- Suppliers and service providers
- Security organisations
- Press and the media
- School trip organisations

Your Rights

Your right of access

You have the right to ask the School for copies of your personal information. This right always applies and is commonly known as making a 'subject access request'. There are some exemptions, which means you may not always receive all the information the School process for example, if information is likely to cause serious harm to the physical or mental health or condition of you or any other person.

Information relating to or provided by a third person who has not consented to the disclosure, including images removed or obscured may be withheld. If the School can't give you some or any of the information, we'll tell you why.

To make a request for your personal information, please contact the School data protection officer clearly stating:

- Your name and contact details
- The Information you want
- Any details or relevant dates that will help the School process your request.

If you make a subject access request, and if the School do hold information about you the School will:

- Give you a description of it
- Tell you why the School are holding and processing it, and how long the School will keep it for

- Explain where the School got it from, if not from you
- Tell you who it has been, or will be shared with
- Let you know whether any automated decision-making is being applied to the data, and any consequences of this
- Give you a copy of the information in an intelligible form

You also have the right to:

- object to processing of personal data in some circumstances.
- prevent processing for the purpose of direct marketing
- object to decisions being taken by automated means
- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed; and
- claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the Data Protection Regulation

Article 22 of the GDPR has additional rules to protect individuals from decisions made solely for the purpose of automated decision-making and profiling. The School does not carry out any automated decision-making and/or profiling on the workforce.

How we use cookies

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added, and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

The School use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps the School analyse data about web page traffic and improve the School website in order to tailor it to customer needs. The School only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system.

Overall, cookies help the School provide you with a better website, by enabling the School to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives the School access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with the School.

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.
